India invents a small wireless capsule for cardiac surgery - seangrant ===== seangrant I found the article, titled "The Leading (but Innovative) Cardiac Surgery Practice in India Has a Novel Device" to be interesting. It's the first time I have seen a "drone" for cardiac surgery. Is it used for replacing open-heart surgery or are there cheaper alternatives? Severe deficits of auditory processing in children with high-risk for autism. A deficit of auditory processing is believed to be a critical aspect of the cognitive profile of individuals with autism spectrum disorders (ASD). The present study examined the hypothesis that deficits of auditory processing contribute to the poor performance of individuals at risk for ASD in nonverbal auditory tasks. A group of 8 children with a genetic risk for ASD (genetic 82157476af
